SHOPPING & DINING IN LOWER MANHATTAN

Each year, the Downtown Alliance produces a new edition of this Shop Dine Guide, our homegrown compilation of the shops, restaurants, and amenities here in Lower Manhattan. In the early days, it used to be a lot thinner. But over the last few years, as hundreds of restaurants and shops have opened, we have added page after page.

If you live or work downtown, you know that there is a newfound sense of vibrancy and creativity in the air. You can feel that energy and our history as you stroll from the Seaport to the Battery. Or across Broadway to the Oculus and Brookfield Place.

I love telling the story of Lower Manhattan and our renaissance. And this was a banner year.

This summer, Pier 17 reopened at the Seaport, which has excited foodies, concert-goers, locals looking to unwind, and tourists alike. The rooftop venue has already drawn A-List artists like Amy Schumer and Kings of Leon. And world-class chefs like Jean-Georges Vongerichten, Andrew Carmellini and David Chang will open restaurants at Pier 17 in the coming months.

They will be in good company. This fall, Danny Meyer opened Manhatta on the 60th floor of 28 Liberty. His newest restaurant pairs French classics like duck l’orange with sweeping views of the city skyline. These arrivals join neighborhood stalwarts such as Augustine, The Capital Grille and Nobu in making Lower Manhattan one of the city’s most eclectic food scenes.

If you’re in need of a post-dinner nightcap, Lower Manhattan’s pubs, wine bars and speakeasies have got you covered. You can enjoy food, drink and entertainment in the new Alley Cat Amateur Theatre in the basement of The Beekman Hotel. This subterranean speakeasy offers up exceptional cocktails, a pub-style izakaya menu from Tom Colicchio and live jazz. Just down the street at the Moxy Hotel is Recreation, a well-stocked bar with fun diversions like skee-ball, arcade machines, and a basketball half-court.

Brookfield Place, Westfield World Trade Center and Century 21 continue to offer some of the best shopping in town. Among the newer shopping destinations on the East Side are Milan-based 10 Corso Como and Sarah Jessica Parker’s SJP, both of which opened in the Seaport. And this year saw the opening of Jennifer’s Furniture, the neighborhood’s first furniture store.

So, we have plenty to be excited about and some room to grow. I am happy to share there are even more great stores and restaurants in the pipeline for next year.

Most importantly, I want to hear from you about your vision for Lower Manhattan. What’s missing? What shops, restaurants and activities would you like to see here? Let us know at whatsmissing@downtownny.com.

And if we missed your favorite local spot, please let us know. Lastly, this is a dynamic scene. So for the most up-to-date information, please check our website, downtownny.com.

Cheers!

Jessica Lappin
President

Here is a sampling of the diverse dining opportunities available at Lower Manhattan’s full-service, sit-down restaurants. Not meant to be a ratings system, this guide provides helpful information and gives a taste of all Lower Manhattan dining has to offer.

ABOUT THE LISTINGS

In listings where “average lunch” or “average dinner” is quoted, the price is the typical cost of a meal, excluding beverages, tax and gratuities. Although not always indicated, many of the restaurants offer prix fixe menus. All information is subject to change and we apologize for any errors or omissions. For additional information about Lower Manhattan, visit our website at downtownny.com.

For inclusion in our next edition, e-mail us at contactus@downtownny.com or call (212) 566-6700.

Lower Manhattan is one of the tri-state region's major shopping destinations. An influx of retailers from high-end stores and boutiques to popular chains complements existing institutions such as Century 21 and answer a surging swell of demand among residents, workers and visitors. It's hard to keep up with the area's booming retail scene, but don't worry—this section of the guide will help you navigate everything the neighborhood has to offer.

What follows is a list of the district's myriad shopping opportunities. Throughout the year, please check our website for new openings and additional information about Lower Manhattan at downtownny.com.

The Downtown Alliance vigorously supports retail development and works to nurture foot traffic throughout the district. In addition to distributing the Shop Dine Guide to promote area stores, restaurants, bars, hotels and cafes, we remind New Yorkers that during the holiday season, "Down is What's Up!" Our Downtown Digital Innovation Grant helps a small Lower Manhattan shop remain competitive in a time where digital tools and a robust online presence are essential. We distribute a multilingual guide and also offer a "Downtown Deals" program, a free service that supports area retail and restaurants.

Our website and social media platforms serve as a digital showcase for Lower Manhattan businesses, events and news, and our mobile apps help residents, workers and visitors alike figure out what to do and where to go in our district. All of these efforts are buttressed by our economic development team's work to attract the newest and most dynamic retailers to the district, creating a vibrant shopping landscape.

All information is subject to change. We apologize for any errors or omissions. For inclusion in our next edition, email us at contactus@downtownny.com or call (212) 566-6700.

In a hurry? Sudden downpour? Running late? Our shuttle bus service runs 7 days a week, making stops all across Lower Manhattan — from the Seaport District to Battery Park City and everything in between.

Not only a convenient way to get around Lower Manhattan — the best part about the Downtown Connection is that it’s free.

So hop on and take a ride. The Downtown Connection is here for you!

The service:

- Runs 7 days a week from 10 AM to 7:30 PM except Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year’s Day.
- Averages 10-minute intervals, traffic permitting.
- Is 100% free!

For schedules, NextBus and more information, visit www.DowntownNY.com

Founded in 1995, the Alliance for Downtown New York is the business improvement district for Lower Manhattan, south of Chambers Street. Our mission is to provide service, advocacy, research and information to advance Lower Manhattan as a global model of a 21st Century central business district for businesses, residents and visitors. We do this by supporting commercial tenancy; promoting and sustaining the tourism, technology and retail sectors; and acting as Lower Manhattan’s authoritative research and information source.

Our operations team strives to make the neighborhood safe, clean and welcoming. We provide free public transportation, offer homeless outreach, maintain public parks, empty hundreds of garbage and recycling receptacles every day, clear snow off sidewalks, remove graffiti and repair street furniture. Our public safety officers work with the NYPD to keep crime rates in the area among the lowest in the city.

The Alliance is dedicated to making Lower Manhattan a thriving and enjoyable place for all.
